WASHINGTON AEROSPACE SCHOLARS

Hey BHS Juniors: Ever heard the expression, “its Not Rocket Science!” Apply for the Washington Aerospace Scholars Program and find what a Rocket Scientist actually does. Participate in Engineering Challenges both hands-on and via computer. After successful completion of the on-line program during the school year, students can apply to the week-long Summer Residency Program. This includes: tours to Boeing, the UW College of Engineering, a Mission to Mars Project, and Robotics work. Past BHS participants include: Frank Ferris, Jean-Luc Jackson, Adam Winstanley, Tyler Grisdale, Eric Bentler, and Jeff Bentler.

For more information, stop by the Career Center or go on-line to: www.museumofflight.org/washingtonaerospacescholars. Deadline for postmarked applications is: Friday, November 6th, 2009.

*Note: Students must be a U.S. Citizen and Junior standing to apply.

PLANNING ON ATTENDING WSU NEXT YEAR?

Alumni Scholarship applications are now available online. The WSU Alumni Association would like to inform you that the online supplemental scholarship applications for the 2010-2011 school year are now available for incoming students to complete online. All scholarship applications are due by January 2, 2010, but we encourage you to have your students start filling out these applications as soon as possible. The first pool of application downloads will be reviewed by alumni selection committees in your communities starting in November 2009. Our regional alumni chapters will be interviewing select students in February and awarding $1700 awards in March.

Incoming students may apply for Alumni Association Leadership Awards. The criteria for these awards can be found ONLINE. Please note: to be considered for these awards, students must complete the University's general scholarship application, as well as the supplemental essay. Students may complete WSU's general scholarship application ONLINE. Questions, please contact the WSU Alumni Association at 1-800-258-6978.
